

Madagascar Telecommunication Tower Manufacturer

Overview

A subsidiary of Axian Telecom, TOA is one of the fastest-growing TowerCos in Africa, with operations in Madagascar, Uganda, DRC and Tanzania (launched in 2011 in Madagascar). We deploy build-to-suit passive infrastructure to meet the growing demand for a better-connected Africa. Around 60% of the island's population are under 25, representing the backbone of future demand for mobile communications. The mobile penetration rate remains below the average for the African region at. TowerCo Of Madagascar (TOM) is excited to announce the successful completion of its brand transition, marking a significant step in the company's strategic alignment with TowerCo of Africa (TOA), a subsidiary of AXIAN Telecom. This rebranding initiative underscores the company's commitment to building a cohesive and recognisable brand across all TOA operations aying a pivotal role in advancing digital connectivity in Madagascar. Since then, we've made significant progress.
